PORCUPINE, BY RAND JACK

Features real porcupine quills found in the jungle in Tanzania by Rand, jade eyes and nostrils, and two teeth from the tips of antique walrus tusks found by a UC Berkeley professor in the melting permafrost over 100 years ago on the coast of an Aleutian Island. The wood is butternut. 11”x16”x20”